The Lottery Hope Scholarship Has Changed The College Game.

Entering freshmen must have a minimum score of a 21 ACT® to qualify for the lottery scholarship, but in 2015, the University of Tennessee's incoming freshmen had an average ACT® score of 27. Thousands of Tennessee high school students were turned away this year. Let us help you raise your ACT® score by showing you how to attack the test with proven strategies.

“Our son really needed at least one - preferably two - more points on the ACT, he was told, in order to compete for academic scholarships at the colleges to which he was applying. I saw the brochure about the Koontz Cram Course and signed him up. He was reluctant at first to give up an entire week of evenings to study (in addition to his regular homework), but he actually ended up enjoying the course. The instructors were excellent! They not only prepared him with review of each subject, they also gave him lots of strategies to help him work faster and smarter. And, maybe most importantly, he gained the confidence he needed to succeed. He actually scored THREE points higher on the ACT after taking the course! We were thrilled, as was he. We know the difference this will make in his being able to compete for academic scholarships will pay for the course probably 100 times over!”

“Laura and I wanted to express our sincere appreciation to you regarding the positive impact you and your staff have had on our son. On the ACT test immediately following the Koontz ACT Cram Course, he raised his score from a 29 to a 34 putting him into the top 1% of the nation. Without taking your Koontz ACT Cram Course, I do not believe he would have made the score to put him into serious contention for merit scholarships of the most prestigious universities in the country. Lastly, and one of the most important elements of the Koontz ACT Cram Course, we believe you and your staff instilled into our son, each day, for five days preceding the ACT test, the spirit of a winner. A group of these young adults were so pumped at the time of the test; they had a positive mental attitude, and the belief they were fully prepared to do a great job, and did!”

— Philip and Laura Smith

“The Koontz’s Cram Course was a tremendous benefit to our daughter as she learned testing strategies to improve the ACT score. From time-saving tips.... to strategies for deciphering scientific reading, she learned how to optimize her performance through time-management, thereby allowing sufficient time for test content analysis. Her score improved by a full four points! We deeply appreciate the opportunity for her to take this preparation course at home in Maryville.”

— Dan and Amy Cochran
